STRONGHOLDS FALL TO BULGAR-GERMANS

MAINE EXERCISES PREROGATIVE OF POINTING THE WAY

Both Democrats and Republicans, with Voters at Polls, Claim Key State Will Favor Them

LOCAL ISSUES DITCHED

Even Yearly Fight on Wet and Dry Question Buried Under Interest in Presidential Race

LEWISTON, Maine, Sept. 11.—A falling off in the expected heavy democratic vote for Congressman McGillicuddy of this district was declared Monday afternoon by republican leaders to have been established in the early run of balloting. Democratic leaders ridiculed claims of any loss in democratic votes here.

By PERRY ARNOLD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 11.—"Way down east" took the national political stage Monday.

Maine was exercising her proud privilege of exhibiting a line on how the nation feels as to democracy and republicanism. The rock ribbed commonwealth's voters were casting ballots for a complete state ticket and national primary ticket.

Judged from New England's Hub here Monday afternoon in the light of fragmentary word from all sections of Maine, the Pine Tree state will break all records in the number of votes cast.

Both democratic and republican leaders at Augusta today declared their belief that the total vote Maine cast in 1880—147,000—would be exceeded.

Early word from practically all section of the state indicated fair weather and local leaders predicted a record vote.

"I am entirely satisfied with the situation," remarked William R. Patterson, campaign chairman of the democrats. "I hold to the prediction I made yesterday of a democratic victory."

"An unusually big vote may be expected," countered Frank J. Ham, republican leader, "and we will win." Privately the republican leaders are claiming anywhere from 7,000 to 15,000 majority; the democrats at least 3,000 votes ahead.

The greatest interest was manifested throughout the state in the outcome of the senatorial fight and particularly as to Senator Charles F. Johnson, upon whom the republicans have centered their attack. Johnson is opposed by Fred Hale, former progressive leader and a son of Maine's grand old man of the senate, Eugene Hale.

A bird's-eye view of the Maine situation made it apparent that each side would be satisfied with a partial victory.

Both sides are tacitly agreed that at least one Maine district will be democratic; that now represented in congress by Daniel J. McGillicuddy. He is extremely popular throughout the state.

For the first time in a good many years, local Maine issues have played very little part in the campaign. For the most part the orators have argued on national questions.

Even Maine's perennial rum issue has been thrust into the background. Republican orators attacked the democratic tariff; President Wilson's course in Mexico; the railroad strike settlement; the shipping bill, and taking their cue from Hughes, the alleged general inefficiency of government. President Wilson was assailed for alleged "changes of mind" on preparedness, child labor, woman's suffrage and Mexico.

Democracy's spell-binders adopted the slogan "Peace with honor and prosperity," as the theme of their discourses.

Local orators for the republicans had considerable stress on what they claimed as mis-government by the Curtis regime. Democratic state leaders set their speakers to work pointing with pride to humanitarian laws passed by the present governor.

Great List of Workers
A list of campaigners set out by both parties reads like a blue book of politicians. Here are a few who have loosed their thrusts at the other side:

Democrats: Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Secretary of War Baker, Secretary of Labor Wilson, Secretary of Commerce Redfield, President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor; Senator Ollie James and Bainbridge Colby, former progressive leader in New York.

SYMPATHY STRIKE OF 800,000 TRADE UNIONISTS ASKED

New York Union Heads, with Samuel Gompers, Recommend All Union Folk Aid the Striking Carmen

MUCH VIOLENCE OCCURS

Thirty-two Persons Reported Injured in Strike Zone in a Day; Many Arrests Made

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—An order recommending a general strike of New York's 800,000 trade unionists, in sympathy with the transit strike which affects New York, Bronx and Queens counties, went out to the union heads Monday.

Leaving the night session of union heads two hours before it closed, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, recommended that union members give the striking carmen "financial and moral support."

The union heads recommended a general strike with which action they claimed Gompers was in complete sympathy. The union committee which will direct the proposed general strike, opened headquarters Monday and will be in daily session.

It was said it would take several days to get the proposed sympathetic strike under way.

While surface lines are practically at a standstill the strikers are today making an appeal to the public to refrain from using surface, subway and elevated lines upon which strikes are in progress.

Police reports Monday showed that in the twenty-four hours, thirty-two persons were injured in the strike district.

YOUTHFUL BELGIAN BOY IN TRENCHES WANTS AN AMERICAN "GODMOTHER"

(Anatole Wauters wants an American god mother, and The TRIBUNE stands ready to aid him in his quest. Therefore, if anyone wishes to reply to the request, The TRIBUNE will receive them and forward them to the Belgian army address Anatole has given.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Anatole Wauters, 20 years old, Belgian boy, soldier in the army of King Albert, wants an American "godmother." His aged father is imprisoned in Germany. Having lost his mother about seven weeks ago, the homeless boy has written the United Press telling of his plight. Thousands of French and English women are acting as "godmothers" to men in the trenches—so many in fact, that Anatole says the supply is exhausted—and he wants an American woman to write him letters and "mother" him as others are doing for his comrades. Here is Anatole's letter received Monday.

"To the United Press, New York—Gentlemen. Being at the front since the start of hostilities and seeing that almost all of my comrades had a French or English godmother, I am almost permitted to search for one. Unhappily the French and English godmothers are exhausted, that is to say, they are all taken.

"Seeing that my efforts are without results, I thought to address myself to the great American, so generous, that has fed until now our fathers, mothers, brothers and sisters who are in Belgium.

"I am twenty years of age, am willing to work and am without support whatever. I lost my mother seven weeks ago and my father is very old and is a prisoner in Germany.

"I thought of your service which has printed the fine articles by your correspondent, Henry Wood of Paris. Hoping that you will do something for me, if you please, gentlemen, and with assurance of my distinguished esteem,

"A Defender of Humanity (Signed) ANATOLE WAUTERS. P. C. A. Army of the country of Belgium."

LOCAL SOLDIERS' DEPENDENTS SOON TO GET BENEFITS

La Follette $50 Monthly Pay Bill Now Law and Application Blanks Are Sent for

DEFEAT HOBBLE EFFORT

War Department Headed Off in Attempt to Limit Benefit to Those Enlisted Before Call

Dependent relatives of La Crosse soldiers with the local militia commands on the border will be on Uncle Sam's payroll for $50 monthly within a comparatively short time, according to information gathered by The TRIBUNE from Washington and local sources. The La Follette amendment to the army bill became law on August 29, and application has already been made for blanks and information concerning the method of obtaining the government assistance.

Representative John J. Esch of this city, wrote to the head of the war department some days since, requesting the circular of instructions in regard to the mode of applying for the extra stipend, and asking a supply of application blanks. They should be received within a few days, Mr. Esch said.

A wire to Senator La Follette brought The TRIBUNE the information that the amendment providing for guardsmen's dependents became law with the army appropriation bill on August 29. The La Follette amendment provided an appropriation of $2,000,000 for the purpose.

An attempt to hobble the provision, by making it apply only to men in the guard service at the time of the president's call in June, has been frustrated by an amendment to the revenue bill, fathered by Senator Lee of Maryland.

The war department, after the senate and house agreed upon the provision, announced that the benefit would extend only to those in the service before the call. Protest was made in the senate and house, and the will of congress was made plain and undisputable by Senator Lee's amendment to the revenue bill, which expressly provides that the appropriation shall be available for the dependent families of all militiamen.

The Lee amendment became law September 8.

SECTION OF GREAT BRIDGE FALLS AND MANY ARE KILLED

Central Span in Quebec Bridge Goes Into River in Sight of Notables Gathered for Occasion

BELIEVE 25 ARE KILLED

Placing of Span Heralded as a Great Engineering Feat; Disaster Second on Bridge

QUEBEC, Sept. 11.—Twenty-five men were plunged to their death when the central span of the big $17,000,000 cantilever Quebec bridge over the St. Lawrence river collapsed Monday just as it was being swung into place, marking what would have been the final work on one of the greatest engineering feats in the world.

Thousands of persons who had come to witness the spectacle of the completion of the bridge, including cabinet and parliament members, and engineers, saw the accident.

First reports were that the entire force of ninety men who were on the bridge had perished. The St. Lawrence Bridge company, contractors for the structure, announced, however, that their latest estimates showed twenty-five to have been killed. Only five or six survivors of those who were plunged into the river were picked up.

Weighted 5,000 Tons

The big span, which buckled and then collapsed, weighed 5,000 tons. It was floated down on barges, while thousands in boats of every description and massed on shore cheered. Steamboat whistles were tooting and the enthusiasm of the great crowd was at its height when the accident occurred. The span had been hoisted but fifteen feet when one corner of the span was seen to be higher than the other. The supporting jack on the lower end then gave way, the span broke in the center and with steel girders snapping with reports like rifle shots, the structure plunged into the water.

Men Carried Down

The crowds looked on, dumb with amazement as the great steel span dived out of sight. It carried with it a small portion of the south cantilever arm. Four or five men working on top of the span were hurled into the water. The rest were carried down. The fleet of launches and tugs nearby hurried forward but succeeded in rescuing few.

The big span sank in two hundred feet of water, disappearing completely. In 1907 a section of the bridge collapsed as it was nearing completion, killing seventy-five men. As the St. Lawrence river at this point is about 200 feet in depth, it is not believed traffic will be impeded.

Arrangements have been made to send divers down to ascertain if it will be possible to raise the span and also to find if the channel has been blocked.

Government ministers, eminent engineers and especially invited guests from all over the world were to witness the placing of the span.

Train Brings Wounded
A special train with twenty injured men from the bridge arrived here shortly after noon. They were taken to the Jeffrey Hale hospital.

Chief Engineer McMillan was on the central span when it fell and was badly injured. He was rescued by a tug and was brought here for treatment.

It is now stated that the twenty-seven men were killed, a number of them being Indians from the Cagana reservation. Among the known dead is Edward Jordanias, aged 22, of Providence, R. I. Before leaving his boarding house Sunday night to go to the bridge, he said with a smile: "Say, boys, let's all join in a song. It may be the last one we will sing together in this burg."

TWO RUMANIAN FORTS TAKEN BY INVADERS WITH MANY PRISONERS

OFFENSIVE TAKEN BY THE ALLIES ON BOTH BALKAN WINGS

British Force Crossing River Strumna Under Heavy Fire and Attack Bulgar Left Wing

SERBS PRESS FORWARD

Bulgarians Driven from Two Villages and Artillery Causes Retirement

BY ED L. KEEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Sept. 11.—The allies have taken the offensive on both wings in the Balkans. The British forced a crossing of the Strumna under heavy fire and began an attack on the Bulgarian left wing. The French war office wired Monday afternoon that the crossing was made at Oljatz, about fifty-two miles northeast of Salonika. The British attacking the towns of Nivolgen and Karad Jaquiel and heavy fighting is going on.

On the allied left wing the Serbians pressed forward, driving the Bulgars out of the villages of Emborja and Pakeschori. Serbian artillery also forced the Bulgars to retire near Flomina.

Whether the allied operations, together with the Russo-Rumanian attacks in the Dobrudja form the beginning of a long expected double offensive to crush Bulgaria, it is too early to determine.

GERMANS LAUNCH COUNTER-ATTACKS BUT ARE REPULSED

Liquid Fire Used in Assaults on French from Berny to a Point South of Chaulnes

GINCHY CAPTORS FIRM

Irish Regiment, Which Captured Village Saturday, Repels Attacks of Teutons

PARIS, Sept. 11.—The Germans launched five attacks against the French lines south of the Somme between Berny and a point south of Chaulnes Sunday night, using liquid fire. The war office announced that all these attacks were checked by artillery fire, the Germans losing heavily.

British Drive Off Attacks

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Two German counter-attacks Sunday night against the village of Ginchy, captured by Irish regiments Saturday were driven off. General Haig reported Monday afternoon.

The Germans also attacked near Mouet farm, but were driven back. Otherwise there were no important operations in Somme battle front.

Between Neuville St. Vaast and the La Bassée canal the British entered enemy trenches at several points, taking a number of prisoners.

Ginchy taken Saturday. Lies almost directly north of Combes. On a front of more than a quarter of a mile the British gained 300 yards east of High wood and northeast of Pozieres captured 600 yards of German trenches. In these engagements the German casualties, according to the British official statement Saturday night, were extremely heavy.

Likewise the French, forcing the attack in the Verdun sector, captured a whole section of German trenches east of Fleury, the assault being characterized by the French war office as a brilliant action.

Admits Loss of Trenches
BERLIN, Sept. 11.—Loss of advanced trenches to the British between Ginchy and Combes, in a furious battle, was admitted by the war office Monday afternoon.

Fighting for possession of the village of Ginchy continues.

South of the Somme a few houses in the village of Berny have been recaptured from the French.

BULGARIA REGAINS A THIRD OF LAND LOST IN LATE WAR

Berlin Reports Rumanians and Russians in Retreat Down the Danube; Positions East of Silistria Fall

MOVE ON BUCHAREST?

Critics Believe the Invaders Plan to Drive the Defenders Behind the Danube

BERLIN, Sept. 11.—Two Rumanian fortresses, Tutrakan and Silistria, have fallen to the Budgar-Germans, it has been officially announced by the German war office.

In the capture of Tutrakan, and the bridgehead, seven infantry regiments, two battalions of gendarmes were made prisoners, and great quantities of ammunition, rifles and machine guns were taken.

The German war office on Sunday briefly announced that Silistria, one of the Rumanian fortresses on the southern bank of the Danube had fallen after sanguinary fighting, and that Russians and Rumanians had suffered considerable losses in the last few days. Silistria is a city of about 15,000 inhabitants, twenty-five miles northeast of Tutokul.

More than a third of the territory taken from Bulgaria by the Rumanians at the close of the second Balkan war has been reconquered by the German-Bulgarian forces.

The Rumanians and Russians are again in retreat toward the Danube, abandoning still more positions east and southeast of the fortress of Silistria, said Budapest dispatches Monday.

In a little more than a week the combined German and Bulgarian forces have captured far more Rumanian territory than the allies have been able to take of German territory since the beginning of the war.

The Rumanian and Russian prisoners now total more than thirty thousand. Large captures of guns have seriously affected the Rumanian artillery supply.

The capture of Silistria is expected to cause the early withdrawal of the Russo-Rumanian forces still operating near Dobric, in southeastern Rumania. The force that occupied Silistria is advancing eastward while a Bulgarian army continues to move northward along the Black sea coast. The enemy already is in a deep pocket and an eastward advance of twenty miles by the Germans will make his withdrawal difficult.

Whether the German-Bulgarian advance marks the beginning of a real drive on Bucharest, newspaper critics here confess they are unable to decide. In some quarters, it is believed, the Germans plan to drive the Russians and Rumanians behind the Danube and the Constanza railway and throw up strong defensive lines to check a Russo-Rumanian march on Bulgaria.

The Budapest newspaper, Az Est, declares that the Bulgarians have now conquered practically all the towns which they were forced by the treaty of Bucharest to surrender to the Rumanians. Thanksgiving services are being held throughout Bulgaria because of the victories over the Rumanians and Russians.

Varna Being Evacuated
LONDON, Sept. 11.—Varna, the principal Bulgarian seaport on the Black sea, is being evacuated by the Bulgars, a semi-official news dispatch from Odessa says.

ELECTRIC BAIT FOR NIGHT
FISHING
An inventive fisherman noticed that the stomachs of such game fish
as bass often contain glow worms and other phosphorescent insects. He devised a tiny celluloid minnow which contains a miniature electric light,
having its current supplied from a fine copper wire attached to the fish-line. A contact button on the fishing rod flashes the lamp intermittently just as the glow worm's light is brightened and diminished by the creature's movements. It is said that the invention is thoroughly practical and has made some fine catches of fish for its owner.

AN OPEN FORUM FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN

The publishers of the TRIBUNE reserve the right to treat news printing as a private business, but they also recognize that it has many of the essentials of a public utility. Particularly does this phase of the business become important in political campaigns.

The editorials of a newspaper are mere opinion, and for the most part they are the opinions of a single man. Since readers change their papers at will, it is true that in their general trend
the editorials reflect the views of readers, but it stands to reason that since men of all parties read each newspaper, they can not all agree, even with a paper that is intelligently independent of party.

In justice to its thousands of readers the TRIBUNE plans to establish an open forum during this presidential canvass. It will seek to publish the news with accuracy, alike from all party sources. Important utterances from men big enough to reflect party policy, made in public, will be given space without discrimination.

But we shall go further than fair news. The TRIBUNE takes this occasion to throw its editorial space open to authorized comment in the interest of all parties. It proposes to each party organization that some competent person be assigned as editorial writer for the campaign. The only restriction is to reasonable length and proper language.

All the parties want to present their views. All voters want to hear all views from all sides. It is at this that we aim—to have the issues talked out intelligently, fairly and in good humor in the TRIBUNE—talked out by men who speak with understanding and authority for each of the several parties.

THE PROPER BASIS
OF AMERICAN THRIFT

During the lifetime of the generation which is just passing away
there was probably no one man who so embodied the hard and sturdy qualities of America, the solid common sense, the practical building talents which make for individual comfort and national growth to such an extent as the late James J. Hill. It was he who said these words:

If you want to know whether you are destined to be a success or not, you can easily find out. The test is simple and infallible: Are you able to save money? If not, drop out. You will lose. You may think not, but you will lose as sure as fate, for the seed of success is not in you.—"Collier's."

Truly that was "Jim" Hill's measure of "success." Has it become "Collier's"? Collier's once admired Emerson's scorn for one who from life's bounties chose "a few herbs and apples".
The hero of empire building is not the investor, but the engineer. Babcock, a poor Wisconsin "professor", gave his milk test, worth millions, free to the farmers. Is Babcock a failure—poor Babcock, who has contributed to the public health and safety a boon not measurable in money?

The virtue of saving that goes to independence and makes good work possible is great. But civilization is moving rapidly toward the point where hoarding will not be in good repute. Hill was not of the meaner class, for he opened up an empire, but his hands were not clean of stock gambling of the sinister sort that wins by crushing others. Lessons in thrift should be on the basis of service.

AND THERE IS THE
HONKLESS AUTO

A touch, a kiss! The charm was snapped,
There rose a sound of striking clocks
And feet that ran and doors that clapped
And barking dogs and crowing cocks.
A fuller light illumined all,
A breeze through all the garden swept,
The fire shot up, the martin flew
And sixty feet the fountain leapt;
The maid and page resumed their strife.
The palace roared and buzzed and clacked,
And all the long pent stream of life
Dashed downward in a cataract.

—Enchanted Palace.

Since the quotation is from memory, a notable omission
being that "the steward drank", inaccuracies may be pardoned and at least have we consolation in that we shall not receive a protesting communication from Lord Tennyson. The point is that it doesn't take the kiss of a fairy prince, nor need beauty sleep in an enchanted palace to experience the sweep of sudden domestic turmoil. The thing is modern suburban. Perhaps one should not complain of the neighborhood infringement upon
"Big Ben" of a secular day, but at least may one yawn protest-
ingly in the darkest before the dawn of a Sabbath.

Our gratitude to Luther Burbank for the seedless orange, but for the crowless rooster, the barkless dog and the yowless cat
we would make him king.

FAMOUS BULL FIGHTER
IS HIT BY WEEKLY
4-MILE AN HOUR TRAIN

JUAREZ, Mexico, Sept. 11.—Juan Rangel was struck by a train on the Nor-Oeste De Mexican railway and injured. Juan was well known to many Americans in El Paso.
Doesn't sound like much of a story. But wait. Juan was a famous and expert bull fighter. Hundreds of tourists have thrilled when he avoided the furious rushes of maddened bulls in the bull ring
here. The train which hit Juan runs once a week. It was whizzing along at all of four miles an hour.
And Juan was hit by the cowcatcher.

Worked Last Year
The old farmer had been hauled
before the magistrate to show cause
why he hadn't taken out a license
for a pet terrier.
"Who, he's nobbut a puppy," he exclaimed in defense.
"Yes, yes, so you say," said the clerk. "But how old is he?"
"I couldn't tell to a bit," he replied.
"I never was much good at dates,
but he's nobbut a puppy."
On the other hand, evidence proved that the dog was long past

puppyhood, and the bench inflicted the usual fine.
Talking it over afterward, the farmer exclaimed: "Ang m' if I can't understand it! Last year, an
the year afore that, I told the same
tale 'bout same dog, an' it wor allus
good enough afore! Who's bin meddlin wi' 't law since last year?"

THE INNER GARDEN
The garden that's neglected yields
A woeful crop of weeds,
And lushly irrigated fields
Untilled will run to weeds.

But with a little care the plot
Of errand with weeds blows
Will be transformed into a spot
Transfigured by the rose.

So with the garden of the soul—
Keep at it without cease—
Stamp out the choking weeds of dole,
And gather blooms of peace.

especially when a feeling by which
you know it's dinner time takes your attention from your work. For the fourth time that heavy step was passing through the room! Every ear was attentive, every eye on its work. But the step stopped in the middle of the room.

Then a powerful voice exclaimed
impatiently: "Well, wouldn't that kill you?"
Thinking this the psychological moment to proffer sympathy and assistance if possible, one of the employees asked what was the matter.
There followed a pause, the kind of a pause that keeps you eager, watchful, waiting for what is to happen
next, a pause that often precedes the important statements of the powerful.

Then followed the brief explanation:
"I can't find my hat."

Youthful Strategy
A speaker in an address on preparedness said:
"Before the looming danger of invasion the pacifist and the preparedness chap are, respectively, like Willie and Johnny."

"Willie and Johnny had been very naughty and were sent to bed by their mother. As they lay side by side footsteps were heard—it was now
evening—and the two culprits realized
that their father was mounting
the stairs. They turned pale.
"I'm goin' to fold my hands as if I'd been prayin'," said Pacifist Willie, "and then I'll pretend to be asleep when he comes in."
"But Preparedness Johnny was already bustling swiftly about the
room.
"I'm goin' to put on my pants," he said, "and line 'em with a newspaper."

Limitations
To know your limitations, that is well.

"Tis very wise indeed to understand them.
And then each day to pass a little spell
Devising some sure method to expand them.

do your own work well."—John Rus-

DAILY
TRAVELETTE
(By Nissab)

OKLAHOMA CITY
Oklahoma City is unique to the itinerant from the east by reason of the fact that it is a real American town. Here you still find the old aboriginal Yankee with his generous length of limb, his hawk nose and clear eye, speaking the English language, and speaking it in liberal quantities.
It is related that a man from New York started out to find his aunt in Oklahoma City, and that he had her address, but was not familiar with the town, and had to enquire his way.
It took him three days to get from his hotel to his aunt's residence, but when he arrived he had material for a history of the town, full crop reports for all adjacent counties, the biographies of the leading citizens,
and any amount of bright and interesting comment on the weather.

The weather is a subject of unusual interest in Oklahoma City anyway. A man familiar with the town can tell by the general appearance of the streets whether it has been a good season with plenty of rain, or a drought. When it rains, the cotton grows to the south, the corn to the north, it's a fine year for the cattle
to the west, and money pours into Oklahoma City from all directions.
But when it is a dry season, Oklahoma City lies low and waits for a change.

The good seasons have been numerous enough, however, to produce a startling amount of prosperity and growth for a city that is scarcely a quarter of a century old. There are still a lot of shacks that were built
back in the cattle and Indian days,
and there are some of the finest office buildings in the west. There are also bungalows galore, and they are the best bungalows you ever saw.
They look as though they had been kidnaped bodily from the paint catalogs and the advertisements in the magazines.

Another thing that will strike you
is the number of automobiles and agencies for their distribution. Every make of car under the sun seems to be represented there. The farmers all ride in them now. From which you will rightly gather that the recent seasons have been mostly wet.

Short Story

ALT NUREMBURG

BY ELLIS BROWNE

(Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Professor Feldman brought his chummy car to a standstill before the door of the inn. Alt Nuremburg, with its concrete block towers and spiked
ironbound oaken gates, announced
hospitality on a board outside that it served food and soft drinks. Another placard pictured an amber brown
mug covered with a generous froth
that appealed more strongly to his dusty palate, and, descending with haste, he was soon inside the garden
waiting to be served at a little white-
clothed iron table near a vine-covered wall.

It was 4 o'clock and in the distant
kitchen could be heard heterogeneous
sounds of busy preparation for the evening, tinkling of glass, clashing of trays and the scraping of heavy kettles. In an occasional low, a deep, steady roar of the proximity of the ocean, and the professor waited impatiently, as he wished to finish his journey and have a cooling dip in the surf before time to dress for dinner.
The thought of dinner and evening
brought a flush of happiness, for he had kept his car seaward for four hundred miles because Betty Pershing
was at Ocean Point with her family. And an invitation from Mrs.
Pershing one day when summer outings were being discussed was not to be overlooked.

"You must come to Ocean Point
when we are there, professor," she had insisted. "The golf course there is perfect and the sailing fine."
"Yes, indeed," Feldman agreed.
Tom Pershing, heartily, slapping the other jovially on the back. "I can beat you all hollow there if you did trim me today. Better run down."

"And I've got a new launch," put in Jack Pershing, eagerly. "We can have a bully time, professor. I'll take you crabbing, too."

"Thank you all!" he had smiled
appreciatively. "You certainly offer inducements. And you, Miss Betty?
Have I your approval?"
"Certainly, professor. I was just wondering how we could get along
through the summer without you!"
Betty answered, brightly.

"The die is cast, I go," he announced gratefully. "What have I done to be so fortunate? I assure you I shall do my best to be useful. I shall stock
up on fresh new jokes for rainy days,
and make proteges of all the old ladies and—" he stopped. He had caught Betty's eye and hers dropped in pretty confusion, for his eyes were saying only too plainly that she was the cause of his gratitude. Her father's friend had never told her that he loved
her, but she had guessed it.
So the Pershings had gone and the professor had followed, and now the sea roaring in his ears made him realize that Betty was less than a mile away and that he could see her in three, two—perhaps one hour.

Two men came in, sat down and rapped sharply on their table. A waiter appeared, summoned another and took orders. The professor changed his mind and ordered orangeade.
After all Alt Nuremburg wasn't Heidelberg and he was no longer a German student. Those were good old days, though. That was where he had met Tom Pershing twenty years ago.
Now he was nearly forty. Heidelberg!
How far away—how long ago it seemed! And pretty little Elsa, flaxen haired and demure! That had been quite an affair. When he came to America he told her he would make his fortune and return when he was rich.

A shadow crossed his face. That had bothered him for years until he had heard that she was married. But he had never verified the rumor.
He finished his sandwich and got up to go. More people had come in and a little orchestra started to play.
The tune was familiar, an old German melody he had known well in the old days. Memories came crowding back, things he had forgotten
long ago—the little old cottage in a village street, the care-free school

One of Interest to Our Readers.
Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitated to believe it at first hearing, we feel se-

following experience of a La Crosse

taking Doan's Kidney Pills, procur-

soon rid of the pain and other kidney ailments." (Statement given Octo-

NEWS NOTES—MOVIELAND

Alice Joyce, who in private life is Mrs. Tom Moore, wife of the movie star, and Tom took their new baby, Alice Mary Moore, down to the seashore every pleasant day during the summer. And that was all the vacation they had.

Movie actors who work as extras,
to fill in the background of pictures,
are organizing a union in New York.

For some time these extras have been employed by the producers
through certain theatrical agencies.
The extras believe they have been exploited by the agencies and are forming an organization to deal with the producers directly.

The scale of wages they ask is $3
a day each when the number employed is less than 100, and $2 a day
when the number is more than 100.

For what they call hazardous work
they ask a daily wage of $7.50.
A good many situations which look hazardous when the pictures are thrown on the screen are not so in fact. But a good many stunts required of movie actors are really hazardous. When one is risking one's life by the day, one may not be unreasonable in asking $7.50, or even $8.

The life of the theatrical agents whom the extra actors criticize is not without its hazards. For instance, there was the agency that collected yeggmen types for the producer of a crook play.

The agent got a crowd of types
with twisted noses and cauliflower

ears together in his office and sent them to the studio.
The studio wanted only six.

The others were disappointed.
Some of them were picked.
One might with safety perhaps,
pique types selected for the congregation of a village church, but not this lot. They went back to the agency with their hats on the side of their heads, and suggested that the agent pay them for their time.

They made the suggestion so forcefully that the scared agent sent in a hurry call for the police.

Ivan, revealer of the night side of life, of its bestiality, madness, cruelty
and terrific visions, now offers a new feature, "The Faded Flower,"
with an all-star cast. Ivan is a relentless fellow in giving evil its deserts and presenting a moral without saying it. If "The Faded Flower" is not an immoral moral lesson, we miss
a guess.

boy, the master with the birch rod;
then college days, rollicking days of love and duels and Elsa. He sat down.
Elsa again!

The curtain at the rear of the little stage parted and four singers
came out dressed in native costume
and picked up the air of the players.
The professor started to his feet, for
the flaxen haired soprano in her velvet bodice was none other than the girl he had been thinking about—Elsa.

He sat staring, confused, his thoughts a chaos. Had the heat, the long ride and the music fuddled his brain? Was this woman real or a creature of his imagination? She kept her eyes on the sky, the ever-changing clouds above the sea, and she did not see him. The song ended and the singers sat down listlessly.

The professor made his way to the platform and Elsa lowered her eyes
from the top of the wall. "Emmet!
Du Emmet!" she cried.
"Yes, Elsa, it's Emmet! Can you come down?"

"Yes," she answered, giving him
her hand and jumping to the ground.
Twenty years had made little change.
She looked older of course, but she was still little Elsa to him.

"Come over here," She indicated a table half hidden by shrubs in an angle of the wall. "We can talk better
by ourselves."
They sat down and he scanned her face closely. "How are you, Elsa?"
"All right. And you?"
"The same. It's odd to find you here. How long have you been in America?"
"Sixteen years."
"Heavens! And I not know it.
Where have you been?"
"In New York most of the time."

HEATING INVESTMENTS

WHY THE RIGHT OUTFIT IS NOT AN EXPENSE

Some Dollar-Saving Economies for Every Home

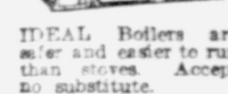

If all owners of homes would figure further than first cost, old-fashioned heating methods would be more rapidly abandoned. It is the fuel and repair costs that count—the constant expense that continues as long as the building stands. The average fuel saving by our heating outfit will pay 15 per cent to 20 per cent annually on the investment, and those dividends are perpetual. Thousands of home owners have reduced their fuel bills one-quarter to one-half by replacing an antiquated way of heating with an Ideal Boiler and American Radiators.

Increases property value

Real estate men will tell you that buildings warmed with American Radiators and Ideal Boilers will attract and hold best tenants at 10 to 15 per cent higher rentals; property sells quicker, and owner gets back the full cost of the heating outfit. Ideal Boilers and American Radiators are annually assisting to revive thousands of these non-productive old buildings, thus giving them new renting or sales values.

Burn cheapest fuels

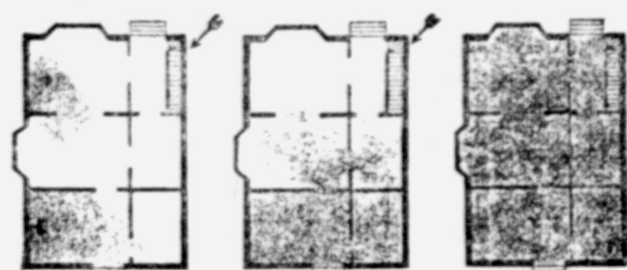

In Ideal Boilers you can burn cheapest soft coal, slack or screenings, hard coal, pea coal, coke, lignite, gas, wood, oil, anything that will burn. All the heat excepting the small percentage necessary to maintain draught is delivered to the rooms and not wasted up the chimney.

Priced for any purse

Ideal Boilers and American Radiators are more valuable to the building than almost any other feature, and the little larger first investment over cost of a cheap heating arrangement could be quickly made up by omitting the useless inner doors, extra chimneys, mantels, fancy lamps that are never lighted, etc. The bank may pay 3 per cent interest on the cash difference between the cost of a hot air furnace or stoves, and a complete outfit of American Radiators and an Ideal Boiler. But this difference invested in one of our steam or water heating outfits will yield many times 3 per cent annually in economy of fuel and labor, absence of repairs, and long-lasting value of the outfit. It is not the first cost of the plant, but the low cost of running it, coupled with durability, that makes an Ideal-American outfit the best investment.

How Much Heat?

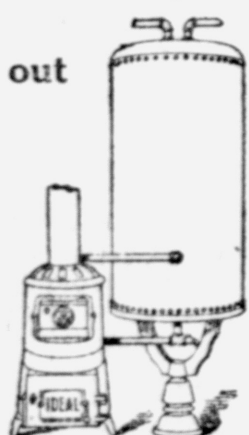

No. 1 Heated "in spots" by Stoves. No. 2 One-sided Heating by Hot-Air Furnace. No. 3 Evenly Warmed by an Ideal Boiler. The shaded portions of the rooms above show how much a house is heated when a cold northeaster is blowing.

For old buildings

It is not necessary to wait until you build a new house to enjoy all the benefits of an Ideal Boiler and American Radiators. They can quickly be put into an old cottage, house, garage, store, school, church, hotel, whether in country, town or city, with little annoyance or disturbance to occupants. They are made in sections which will pass through the cellar door of any building already erected, and can be made larger or smaller.

How you can find out

The best way to determine what the investment will be for your own building is to have a careful examination made of its exact heating needs. You will be surprised to learn that an Ideal-American Heating outfit will cost you far less than you had imagined. As it will cost you nothing to have an estimate of complete cost of the outfit, why not permit us to help secure this information at this favorable time? This will not obligate you in any way, and it will show you that an "Ideal Heating Investment" can be enjoyed with a small outlay of money. Stop paying the price of postponement.

Our IDEAL hot water supply boilers give plenty of warm water always on tap at cost of few cents per day for fuel.

A Great Responsibility.

THE responsibility attached to the preparing of a remedy for infants and children is undoubtedly greater than that imposed upon the manufacturer of remedies for adults whose system is sufficiently strong to counteract, for a time at least, any injurious drug. It is well to observe that Castoria is prepared today, as it has been for the past 40 years, under the personal supervision of Mr. Chas. H. Fletcher.

What have makers of imitations and substitutes at stake? What are their responsibilities? To whom are they answerable? They spring up today, scatter their nefarious wares broadcast, and disappear tomorrow.

Could each mother see the painstaking care with which the prescription for Fletcher's Castoria is prepared: could they read the innumerable testimonials from grateful mothers, they would never listen to the subtle pleadings and false arguments of those who would offer an imitation of, or substitute for, the tried and true Fletcher's Castoria.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Extracts from Letters by Grateful
Parents to Chas. H. Fletcher.

G. J. English, of Springfield, Mass., says: "It was your Castoria that cured my child."

Mrs. Mary McGinnis, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "We have given our baby your Castoria ever since she was born, and we recommend it to all mothers."

N. E. Calmes, of Marion, Ky., says: "You have the best medicine in the world, as I have given your Castoria to my babies from first to last."

Mrs. Albert Ugusky, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., says: "As I have had your Castoria in use for nearly three years, I am pleased to say it is just as represented. My children are both well and happy—thanks to Castoria."

R. P. Stockton, of New Orleans, La., says: "We began giving your Castoria to our baby when he was eight days old and have kept it up ever since, never having had to give any other medicine."

Mrs. Dolph Hornbuckle, of Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "We commenced giving your Castoria to our baby when she was four weeks old.
She is now seven months and weighs 194 pounds. Everyone remarks:
'What a healthy looking baby.' We give Castoria credit for it."

RIVER OF ROMANCE

HAS UNUSUAL TURN

Harold Lockwood and May Allison, one of the most popular combinations in the silent drama, will be seen on the screen here at The Casino on Monday and Tuesday in "The River of Romance," a five-part Metro wonderplay produced by the Yorke
Film Corporation. In this production Mr. Lockwood is seen in the role of a wealthy young man who decides to make his own way in the world. Not finding anything better to do he buys a broken-down motor boat, which he uses to ferry passengers among the islands in the St.
Lawrence river.

There is an unusual twist to the finale, making it one of the best stories ever provided for these stars.
Mr. Lockwood and Miss Allison are surrounded by an unusually strong cast, including Lester Cuneo, Bert
Bushy, Lee Walker, Phil Masi, Dan
Hannon, Mrs. Mathilde Brundage, Lilian Halpern and other well-known stage and screen artists. Henry Otto, who produced "Undine," directed "The River of Romance."

BURLINGTON WAY POLES PAINTED AROUND M'GREGOR

M'GREGOR, Iowa.—(Special).—

At the meeting of the McGregor Auto Trails' club last week with A. E. Nissen, secretary of the Burlington Way
association, and delegates from Cal-mar and Lansing present, arrangements were made and a committee appointed to begin next Monday
painting the poles in this vicinity
with the bands of orange and white.

The McGregor club will mark half way to Clayton and half way to Monona painting every pole. The Burlington Way from St. Louis to St.
Paul is now marked for every mile
by way of Cedar Rapids. The river division from Keokuk to Cresco is about half marked, and will be fully so within a couple of weeks according to present plans.

Saturday night a delegation of the McGregor Auto Trails' club accompanied by Mr. Nissen went to Harper's Ferry to hold a road meeting
there in the interests of the East
Iowa Scenic Trail.

The Lincoln highway association,
through the influence of C. H. Coan
of Clinton, Iowa, Consul for the Lincoln Highway and a leading spirit in the East Iowa Scenic Trail movement, will feature the East Iowa Scenic on all its maps and in all its literature hereafter. This undoubtedly will quickly bring the trail into great prominence. The promoters are now at work extending it north to St.
Paul and south to St. Louis and expect to change the name to the Mississippi River Scenic highway.

A meeting of the Minnesota organization will be held at Winona the end of this month.

"THE UNWRITTEN LAW"
COMES TO MAJESTIC

Erwin Milton Royle's "The Un-
written Law" has developed in all its episodes and made into a motion picture drama, in which the
"Problem" is rendered of secondary interest to the plot, and in which the three principals are not so much types for play manipulation as they are flesh-and-blood human beings
who live, rejoice, suffer and experience the mutations to which all flesh is heir. I mean that "The Unwritten Law" is compact drama and incandescent life. By all odds
it is the most important of the productions of the California Motion Picture Corporation and the finest vehicle yet employed to exploit the grace and beauty of its star, Beatriz Michelena.

Beatriz Michelena in the "Unwritten Law," comes to the Majestic on

SALEM PICNIC IS THREATENED BY CHOKE-CHERRIES

WEST SALEM, Wis.—(Special).—

There was a large attendance at the annual Sunday school picnic of the Federated church Saturday. The event was held at the Walker school,
three miles north of the village, and the grounds, the day and the spirit
of the crowd were ideal.

Some of the old games were played; Ring-around-Rosey, London bridge
and a number of other games that our grandparents took joy out of proved not to have lost their charm.

There was a football that had to stand a lot of kicking, from boys and girls alike; an indoor baseball was beaten up, conundrums were proposed and stories told, while most of the crowd enjoyed the superb
scenery from the top of the adjacent hill.

There were some months ago puckered up from eating choke-cherries
and then smoothed out again with the soothing oil of the plentiful
hazel nut which grew lustily across the road. But these were as nothing to the great dinner that was served.

A veritable banquet, with the guests
sitting on cushions of long green grass under the most gorgeous can-opy of blue; such a dinner! such appetites! such joy of living!

The transportation to and from the picnic was furnished by Messrs G. B.
Hitchcock, Geo. W. Dudley, B. B.
Mercereau, Herman Heider, Harry Grissold, Peter Michelson, A. I.
Stubbs and Edwin Jackson. Gene Derr came along as the crowd was packing off for home and became a willing enough victim, taking a half-dozen pretty girls back to town in his car.

This was the first Sunday school
picnic ever held to which a goodly number were not pulled by our old friend, the horse. This time Master James McEldowney had the quiet distinction of driving the only horse
that went to the picnic.

Some of her friends have received
letters from Miss Frances Walker,
dated from Antigo, where her position as teacher in the schools has taken her after a summer spent with friends here. She reports everybody and everything lovely at Antigo, as far as she has discovered. Her friends here and in La Crosse, where she was born and raised, will join in hoping that her place and her work
will only become more, and not less,
lovely, throughout the year.

Miss Maude Twining, well-known in La Crosse, where she spent some time as head nurse in one of the hospitals, came home unexpectedly at the week's end for a little visit with her father's family.

Miss Twining is holding a similar greatly pleased with her work.

HAVE ROSY CHEEKS AND FEEL FRESH AS A DAISY—TRY THIS!

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

To see the tinge of healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best, day in and day out, just try inside-bathing every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the blood and internal organs. Those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges, also those whose skin is sallow and complexion pallid, are assured that one week of inside-bathing will have them both looking and feeling better in every way.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you, drink lots of water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to cleanse and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active.

Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

MARGARET MASON WRITES OF SOUTH AMERICAN STYLES

Editor's Note—Margaret Mason is in South America. Following is the first of her stories on South American styles. The second will follow next week, and there will be others. A visit to Europe is being considered by Miss Mason, and she may go direct from the far south to London. Of course she will, in that case, have a lot of interesting things to write from the war ridden capitals.

They say the two Americas. The South one and the North. Will get more chummy from now on; And so I sallied forth

To learn if we'll take tips from them Or we the tipsters be. In fashion, Drama, Art and Life, I've gone to sea to see.

By MARGARET MASON
ABOARD S. S. VERDI, BOUND FOR BAHIA, RIO DE JANEIRO AND BUENOS AIRES.—(By Mail.)—Aug. 1.—With the closed union of North and South America and our getting together with our South American cousins, we in Oshkosh, Seattle, Miami, Buffalo and Topeka are much concerned.

The cracker barrel oracle at the corner grocery has settled the Mexican question and the European horror, but is all fussed up over the interesting possibility of Brazilians and Argentinians and Chileans getting right pally with New Yorkers and Hoosiers and Kentuckians. The dames in the Ventura club are all agog about "Ross on South of Panama" and at 42nd Street and Broadway a discussion of the drama in Rio and Buenos Aires has "When I was with Sothern and Marlowe" pushed clear into the last trench. No wonder then that my woman's natural curiosity is awakened, (not that it ever snoozes), and that I have decided to see for myself or, in more expressive parlance, to give our South American cousins the once over before we get all chummed up. Consequently I told the passport man my right name, the color of my hair in the original, the number of my thumbs and the date of my birth—but why need a four season repertoire of clothes, a bathing suit, a mackintosh and a bottle of Mother's if you contemplate a brief trip down this way. Food for thought and also for the fishes is the necessity for Mother's. Heavy garments are essential because June, July and August are the winter months in Buenos Aires, and brides and roses bloom contrarily in December. Thin clothes are needed because Rio has a tropical climate, snuggling as it does just within the torrid zone. A mackintosh comes in handy because as you sail near the equator, where often the coolest weather of the trip is encountered, the showers are as frequent and fleeting as any of our April best. As for the bathing suit, it is indispensable first of all because of the advent on board of Neptune and his daughter Aphrodite. They appear as the equator is crossed and initiate into the mysteries of Neptune's court all those innocents who never have crossed the line before. They cross the line but they do not draw the line and no mere sex will gain you exemption from the rites. Neptune's vigilant police are no respecters of fine apparel and though you duck and run in all the grandeur of your festive togs, they trail you to your state-room's lair and lead you to be ducked again. 'Tis a neat and simple service. You first say "howdy" to Neptune and Aphrodite. Aye, then comes the rub. You are smeared with a lather of flour and water and then promptly ducked in the lower deck. After being duly ducked you are handed an elaborately engraved certificate signed by Neptune Rex, the skipper and divers lesser official lights, which entitles you to cross the Equator unmolested for the rest of your days. I for one emerged strong for preparedness and convinced that a bathing suit in time saves nine tins of the wear of a salt water dip on a perfectly good dinner gown. Your bathing suit comes in handy yet again to be donned when masticating mangoes, which are purchased in great abundance and juiciness at Bahia, Brazil, the first port of call. When eating this tropical fruit you are bound to be covered both with embarrassment and mango.

There is no tonic for the stomach that is not a tonic for every other part of the body. But the stomach depends, as does every other organ, on the blood for its energy.

There can be no perfect digestion without rich, red blood. This is scientifically true. The way then to tone up the stomach is to enrich the blood.

If your digestion is off and your blood is thin there can be no question about it. You need Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to restore the condition of your blood, use care in the selection of your diet and the stomach trouble will take care of itself.

Stomach trouble is debilitating. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic and build up the weakened system generally.

Most stomach remedies try to digest your food for you. How much better it is to tone up the stomach so that it will do its own work as nature intended. There is no pleasure in eating pre-digested food. Tone up your stomach and your appetite and digestion will soon be normal.

A diet book will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or a box will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of fifty cents.

ONE DIVORCE SUIT FOR EVERY THREE MARRIAGES IN OHIO

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 11.—For every three marriages in Ohio last year at least one divorce suit was started.

For every six marriages one divorce was granted by Ohio courts and one marriage annulled.

These figures will be cited in the forthcoming report of Secretary of State Charles C. Hildebrand, soon to be filed with Governor Willis, it was learned here.

Ten years ago Ohio had only one divorce to every twelve marriages. Annual reports of the former secretaries show plainly the divorce evil is gaining ground in Ohio married life.

Hildebrand's report shows it is the wife and not the husband, as generally it is supposed, who tires soonest of the marriage bond.

For example, Exactly 299 divorces were granted husbands last year on the ground that their wives had been unfaithful. Only 196 wives were granted divorces from husbands charged with forgetting their marriage vows.

However, it is the husband who shirks married responsibility first according to the report. Exactly 3,014 divorces were granted wives last year for "absence and neglect," as against 1,354 granted husbands for the same reason.

Hildebrand's report shows that June still holds good as the month of marriages and that January is the month that Cupid languishes.

Of the 48,260 marriages reported for the year, 5,820 were solemnized in June, while January's record was only 2,875.

WOMAN SO WEAK COULD NOT SLEEP

Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

North Oxford, Mass.—"I had lost three children and I was all run down and so weak I could not sleep at night. My eyesight would leave me and everything I ate upset my stomach. I was very nervous and if I would start to sleep I would have to stop and lie down before I could finish. I was looking over the paper one day and read of a woman who felt as I did and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I took it too. Now I am proud to tell you I am feeling fine and have given birth to a boy baby. He is my 'Pinkham' baby. I keep a bottle of Compound in my house always."—Mrs. PETER MARCO, Box 64, North Oxford, Mass.

Sleeplessness, indigestion, weakness, and nervousness are symptoms which indicate a lowered vitality of the female organism, and the tonic, strengthening properties of the good old fashioned roots and herbs, contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, are just what is needed by every woman who is in Mrs. Marco's condition.

For free advice in regard to any annoying symptom write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

the erection, and championed by Senator Broussard of Louisiana, has passed the senate, and a similar piece of legislation, promoted by Representative Kennedy of Rhode Island, is being pushed in the lower house. The nuns of six religious orders served as army nurses during the Civil war. The cost of this memorial to the "Nun of the Battlefield" will be $50,000, in which expense the government will have no share whatever, the fund being raised by a small per capita tax on the large membership of the organization.

Aged Woman Takes the Veil

Mrs. Adeline Gosselin, 73 years old and the mother of ten children, recently took the veil of the Sisters of St. Joseph, at Nazareth Academy, La Grange, Ill. The occasion brought together sixty-five members of the aged nun's family from the United States and Canada, among whom were two of her daughters who are nuns and the superiors of Catholic convents, and several other nuns and priests who were grandchildren or nephews and nieces. Archbishop Mundelein of Chicago, assisted by eleven priests officiated at the remarkable event.

REDISTRIBUTION OF LAND TO BREAK MONOPOLY IS PLAN

BY CARL D. GROAT (United Press Staff Correspondent.) NEW LONDON, Conn., Sept. 11.—Redistribution of lands, through a taxation scheme which will break up large holdings, was a suggestion for solution of Mexico's internal problems which the Mexican commissioners outlined to the Americans in the "peace" conference Monday.

The Carranza envoys urged their plan as a hopeful sign of regeneration and argued it would help rid the nation of the scourge of banditry and lessen the need for military protection of the border. Through land distribution and no other means, it is argued, peace and plenty can be restored the southern republic.

Progress toward troops withdrawal was made in Monday's session but it seems likely several more meetings will be required before the conference can report to their governments any definite recommendations regarding their plan.

The commissioners gave broad consideration to the question of Americans returning to their Mexican properties. The Mexicans agreed that the reopening of American properties would provide much employment, a necessary step in the rehabilitation of Mexico. They said they thought it would soon be safe for Americans to return.

COLORED DUO ARE HIT OF NEW BILL AT VARIETY HOUSE

Davis and Walker, two black-face artists whose complexion is a matter of birth and not grease-paint, are the hits of the new show at the La Crosse theater. Sinking and dancing—both arts in which their race enjoys pre-eminence, are their specialties, and they bring to their appearance a gusto and spirit not often seen. The man is as clever a soft-shoe dancer as has appeared in La Crosse for some time, and between the two they have some clever dialogue and bits of harmony that greatly enhance the act.

Mareena, Nevano and Mareena close the bill with a first class exhibition of hand-to-hand balancing, with one of the trio displaying eminent clowning ability. The comedy member of the company does perhaps the most effective work in a number of pantomimic bits that confuse the house.

"A Night at the Lodge," presented by Leffingwell and Gale, has a novel framework, in which a prospective "joiner" goes to sleep and dreams of what is coming astounding results. He enjoys a vicarious "big night" and a row with his wife, and wakes a wiser man, cured of his lodge intentions.

A bit of clever slack-work is cleverly introduced in "Sally's Visit," a sketch presented by La Vine and Inman. There is a good deal of pleasant "funning" on the familiar theme of city girl and countryman, winding up with a really expert exhibition of wire walking.

Gorden and Early are two well-dressed girls who sing and play acceptably. Miss Gordon on the violin and Miss Early at the piano display considerable technical proficiency, with vaudeville flourishes that please the house.

GRITTY ROOKIE FOUND HALF STARVED AFTER BEING MUSTERED OUT

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—An eighteen-year-old "rookie," who was mustered out of the federal service suffering from a sunstroke, was found half starved here Saturday. He is Leon J. Graig, 18. He said his home is in Fulton county, Kentucky.

"When Uncle Sam called for recruits," he said, "I enlisted in the First Illinois cavalry. I suffered a sunstroke while in Springfield, Ill., which made me very weak. I was afraid they would not take me to Texas, so I did not say anything."

On July 27 Craig was given his discharge from Fort Sam Houston and came here. He was unable to get work. Police found him unconscious and penniless in a doorway.

WOULD EXAMINE MRS. CASTLE ON MYSTERIOUS SUM

A. C. Wolfe Tells Court She Intimated Unlisted Assets Are Located in New York

That there exists a sum of money in New York which is not listed in the assets of the bankrupt A. M. Castle Engineering company was suggested at a meeting of creditors held before Judge C. L. Baldwin, referee in bankruptcy, Monday morning. A. C. Wolfe, attorney for the trustee, said that Mrs. Castle, wife of the missing head of the company, had intimated the existence of this money in conversation with him, and said he wanted a chance to examine her to disclose the facts concerning it.

Judge Baldwin instructed Mr. Wolfe to arrange the appearance of Mrs. Castle voluntarily to be examined. Otherwise, he said, he could issue an order requiring her appearance.

No date was set.

PROBE PROPOSED RAISE IN COST OF BREAD

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Four investigations into the proposed increase in price of bread were planned here Monday.

Assistant United States District Attorney Joseph Fleming was prepared to conduct an examination of bakers and twenty-five Chicago bakers, it was said, would be quizzed. Similar action is planned by the state's attorney's office.

At the office of the city sealer, it was stated, a force of inspectors will be scattered throughout the city to urge housewives to weigh the bread. It is planned to introduce a resolution at the next meeting of the city council, asking that a municipal inquiry be made into bread costs.

Meanwhile three women's organizations were planning an inquiry of their own.

MAN WHO FELL FROM BRIDGE DIES ON STREET

Henry A. Rewey, Hurt in Tumble to Ice Last Winter, Drops Dead Sunday Evening

Henry A. Rewey, 66, who sustained severe injuries received last winter in a fall from the Mississippi wagon bridge to the ice on the surface of the river, fell dead from heart disease at the corner of Third and Pearl streets at 9 o'clock Sunday night. He formerly managed the Boycott hotel and is well known here.

Mr. Rewey, according to the proprietor of the Pearl restaurant, on Pearl street near Third, ate supper with a stranger, a young man, who paid for the meal, had supper and left before Rewey. Rewey seemed to be in perfect health as he left the table and walked to the sidewalk. He strolled to the corner and pedestrians saw him reel and fall.

D. C. Dewey, superintendent of the La Crosse Rescue Mission, ran to Rewey at once. Life was extinct. The body was taken to the Tetley, Sletten and Dahl morgue.

Mr. Rewey was married. He has been rooming for some time at the Boycott hotel. Last winter, while employed by the city in repairing the wagon bridge, he fell from the structure to the ice below and was confined at a local hospital for several months.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 Tuesday morning from the Tetley, Sletten and Dahl undertaking establishment. Rev. Finch A. Clark, pastor of the North Presbyterian church, will officiate.

NAVY LEAGUE SUES FORD FOR $100,000

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Henry Ford, peace advocate, really does not mind a fight. Agreeing Monday to come to Washington to defend a suit for $100,000 brought against him by the Navy league, Ford took on an unnecessary court scrap, his attorneys advised him. He over-ruled the attorney's advice that since he resides outside of the District of Columbia, he is outside the jurisdiction of the court. He wants to fight it out, he told them.

The $100,000 is asked by the Navy league because of allegations Ford made in a campaign of full-page newspaper advertising against the preparedness propaganda of the Navy league. In his plea Ford stands pat on the allegations he made against the league.

"The right of every American citizen to be made acquainted with certain information which has come to the attention of Mr. Ford," the answer sets forth, "impelled him at great expense to himself to make the publications for which he has been sued. The same patriotic motives cause him voluntarily to defend this suit a thousands miles from his home."

WIFE BRUTALLY SLAIN BY HUSBAND WHEN SHE STAYS OUT LATE

RUXTON, Iowa, Sept. 11.—In-furiated because his wife left home Saturday night and did not return until Sunday morning, Louis Hoffman, 39, a cobbler, murdered her, splitting her head open with a hatchet and shooting her through the neck. Hoffman then fired a bullet through his own brain, dying almost instantly. Their 9 year old daughter was the only witness of the crime. Investigation Monday disclosed that Hoffman had told the child Saturday night he intended killing the mother.

made and among them were three women charged with inciting a riot. The strike spread Saturday night to the surface lines of the Second Avenue railway company and the third Avenue company. These companies operate virtually all of the surface cars on Manhattan and the Bronx.

The attempt of the New York Traction companies to crush unionism is the first direct result of the eight-hour legislation passed by congress to prevent a railroad strike, a statement from the Amalgamated Association of Carmen charged Monday.

"Capital does not intend that this legislation shall even go on the statute books," the statement declared. "The New York traction companies are backed by the most powerful aggregation of capital in the world. The same financial interests back the railroads of the country. This attempt to crush unionism is the first step in a great fight by capital against organized labor that it may not realize the results of a twenty-five year fight won by the eight-hour bill passed by congress."

A convention of international labor union presidents has been called in this city to decide whether there shall be a general strike of New York's 800,000 trade unionists in sympathy with the striking car men, it was reported Monday afternoon. These labor heads are said to be already on their way to New York, at the request of Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor.

REARRESTED FOR MURDER

BREAD PANS SAVE CITY FOR ONCE FROM DIME LOAF

Bakers Decide to Stick to Nickel Size Unless the Flour Keeps on Soaring

Six cent bread—the pound loaf—will not be substituted in La Crosse for ten cent bread—at least not for the present.

This was the decision of local bakers meeting at Yeomen hall Saturday night to discuss the proposal of some bakers here to discontinue the manufacture of the pound loaf and in its stead sell nothing but ten cent loaves.

The chief reason the bakers voted down the proposal for ten cent bread was that it would necessitate their buying complete sets of new bread pans. The majority of the bakers were against the ten cent loaf.

The bakers agree in a body, however, to manufacture nothing but ten cent bread in the event that flour prices soar to an exorbitant point.

The capture of fifteen German officers and 1,889 men in battles in the wooded Carpathians from Aug. 31 to Sept. 6 is reported by the Russian war office. A quantity of German war munitions was also taken.

AUSTRIANS, GERMANS AND RUSSIANS FIGHT AROUND ARMY BAKERY

BY CARL W. ACKERMAN (United Press Staff Correspondent.) AT THE GERMAN FRONT, NEAR KOVEL, Russia, Aug. 16, by mail.—The great "battle of bread" has just been fought at the village of Zwiniace between Russian, German and Austrian troops with the honors about even.

The Germans captured Zwiniace, brought up their army bakery and had just turned out 10,000 loaves when they were forced to retire. The regiment on their left flank had failed to advance and the retirement at Zwiniace was necessary to straighten the lines.

The Germans entrenched a few hundred yards on one side of the village. The Russians entrenched about the same distance on the other side.

A group of Germans slipped into Zwiniace and started back with all the bread they could carry. The Russians saw them, but instead of firing slipped out of their trenches for a raid on the bakery. The Austrians jumped in and for a few minutes Russians, Germans and Austrians met at the army bakery with the arms too full of bread to fight.

But when the supply began to run low some one drew a knife. The battle was on in an instant with both sides rushing up reinforcements. Before it ended the ground about the bakery was strewn with the bodies of dead Russians, Austrians and Germans, some of them still clutching their loaves of bread.

TRAIN HITS AUTO IN CENTER AND THREE DIE

LOVELAND, Col., Sept. 11.—Three persons are dead and a fourth victim was dying Monday as the result of one of the worst automobile accidents that ever occurred in this region. Mr. and Mrs. James L. Hedelson and Mrs. Clara Jones of Loveland and Mrs. Julia A. Tent of Eureka, Kansas, were returning from a mountain trip Sunday. LA CROSSE MILITIAMEN ANGERED BY UNSIGNED LETTER URGING STRIKE

Strike! That is what someone, name unknown, wants the La Crosse soldiers now on the border to do in the name of freedom and liberty. He wrote a letter to Frank D. Waska, Company M—an eloquent, mis-spelled letter—in which he bombards the government, the relief of soldiers' families, the army, and several other targets with one shrapnel charge. But he didn't sign his name. His letter came from La Crosse, and the soldiers from this city are exceedingly curious to know his identity.

Waska sent the letter to The TRIBUNE with the comment that it was from "someone in La Crosse who was too big a coward to sign his name."

This is what Waska thinks about the writer of it: "Any man who is afraid to sign his name to such a letter would not stand face to face with any of these men and say what he did."

And in a postscript, Waska says, "the boys feel bad about this." Ought the boys feel bad? Judge for yourself from the letter Waska received:

"A Letter from one who believes in Equal Rights for all and Special Privileges to none, whether they be King or Peasant.

"In Last weeks Tribune there appeared a letter from some Soldier in Camp Wilson from La Crosse, but as no name was given I am sending this letter with some clippings of important value to both he, and other soldiers encamped hoping to impress them with a little serious thought, and so I take the liberty of addressing this to one whose name did appear in this letter, as he may know the young man who wrote it, if not, the rest may take a little food for thought, to their advantage.

"Whosoever this Ignoramus 'is' evidently he does more smoking than think, else he would not be selling himself to Rockefeller Gugenheim, and Morgan (cloaked under the title of 'Uncle Sam') for the petty little sum of somewhere near $16.00 per month. Neither would any soldier, and leave their Families to become a 'Public Charge' upon an overriden and overtaxed Community; who are appealed to almost daily through the Press for 'funds' for 'Soldiers Families' and the 'Red-Cross' and the Devil Knows what all, and the conditions of most We working people is, we can scarcely keep soul and body together for our own. Your not there to serve the people; your down there in the interest of 'Big Business,' with interests in Mexico in fact own half of Mexico now.

"Let the Fiddler get his pay from the ones hes playing for; should be the motto. This is a beautiful Christian Nation. Filled with Munition shops making impliments of murder; Who are you that you should override the 'Ten Commandments.' 'Thou shalt not kill,' being the first—and then to have a hired Minister for a chaplain. The whole thing is a FARCE!! and a Tragic Comedy in the name of a Christian civilization. To whom do you pray any way? and on which side is God any way? If it wasnt so sad, I should laugh until my sides split.

"Why I know Jesus must be blushing to day What would he do if he was to come to America?

"But he hasnt arrived yet! HE HAS NOT ARRIVED!! the Christian Religionists are to busy marching behind Brass Bands, drilling for murder; making impliments of destruction, to try the Religion of Christ. The sleep fat Preests and Clergy who dress in fine clothes, dwell in fine houses, and devour widows houses, and rob wash women in the name of Christ; He stands right in the background of this picture with his head bowed low, weeping for a Nation so ignorant as to sell its Soul to Monopoly.

"You soldiers better arouse what little human conscience you have left, and instead of burning literature written by men with brains and deep thought, who by their tenderness of heart and intelligence have found a panacea for the redemption of a nation whos carcass is already stinking with corruption; you had better march less, and think more, let the energy you put in your feet to respond like the blood hound does to his master; let that energy go into brain, then you will think a way out from the fangs of the poisonous slimy octopus, Capitol, and come back to the people. The people who produce all in this world that gives life; and let the Drones die in their lives or help make honey.

"If the People produce everything and they do, Let them rule; and pray do not be a Gool for monopoly any longer.—STRIKE!!!"

DECLARES LOVE ONLY CHEMICAL REACTION

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Love is only a chemical reaction; you can get the same sensation by stroking a cat. Dr. A. A. Lindsay, expert psychopathist, passes this tip out to a world of lovers while the moon is still full.

"There is nothing in this so-called love; that is, really nothing but the thrill of physical contact, for instance, in kissing," said Dr. Lindsay. "After you have kissed the same girl many times the thrill goes out of the kiss. Then you or the girl discover that love never existed between you."

THE HASKIN LETTER

THE HAWAIIAN INVASION

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 11.—During the last few months, Hawaii seems to have invaded the United States. The ukulele, which was almost unknown at this time last year, may now be purchased in every music store from Tallahassee to Oshkosh, from Tombstone to Patchogue, and has at least one devotee in every boarding house. Allied Hawaiian melodies, which are syncopated imitations of the native folk and chants, are sung everywhere. The musical reviews in New York are featuring Hawaiian acts, and there are Hula-hulas to be seen in all the cabarets. Nearly all of the magazines are carrying articles about Hawaii, and an Hawaiian play recently made a record run.

It is hard to explain. The Sandwich Islands have been there all this time, but apparently we have just begun to notice their existence. They are enjoying a popularity such as they have not known since Captain Cook discovered them, or at least since Mark Twain rediscovered them and set the world laughing with his famous lecture half a century ago.

Despite the wide advertising which they have been given recently, however, the Islands are really almost unknown to the general public. The average citizen is aware that the Hawaiian ladies wear very short skirts made of good grade Kansas hay, and that they play ukuleles and slide around in the ocean on flat boards—and that is about all. Little known is the wonderful story of the Hawaiian people, who have advanced within a century from barbarism to civilization, who have lived under barbaric empire a constitutional monarchy, and a republic, and have finally become a part of the United States—and meantime have been slowly disappearing. The Hawaiian story has been one of pathos. A native people of unusual mental and physical endowments, they tried to meet civilization half-way when it came to their islands; but the contact proved fatal. The outside world brought them wealth and knowledge but also disease and vice and alcohol. When Captain Cook discovered the islands in 1778, he estimated that there were nearly half million people living upon them. Now there are ten per cent of that number of pure blooded Hawaiians.

The Hawaii that makes such a good subject for songs and stories and plays, the Hawaii that takes such ready hold of the popular imagination, is that of over a century ago, when first the islands were discovered by white men. "The paradise of the Pacific" at that time to some extent deserved its name. The islands had a remarkably healthy and equable climate; they were beautiful as always; and they were devoid of all large and dangerous beasts; while sweet potatoes, yams, coconuts, and other tropical products could be raised by moderate labor. As a result of these conditions, life was easy and safe; the people were largely vegetarians, although they had a few pigs and dogs; they had neither to hunt nor to fight natural enemies. The effect of their largely vegetable diet was to make them even temperate, fat and easy-going.

They had to work just hard enough to keep them from idleness; but not hard enough to make life a burden. They had abundant opportunity to develop their wonderful barbaric gift for music and literature, to tell their folk tales, and sing their songs into which they wove the voices of surf and forest, making a plaintive and unique sort of melody that will live when all of them are gone.

They were a fine tall people, with great beauty of skin and feature, although their ideals of feminine beauty diverged somewhat from ours in that they considered an enlarged abdomen an essential to physical perfection. The ruling class were vastly superior to all of the other people, both physically and mentally, and this was the natural result of centuries of the most absolute rule in the world. The power of the Hawaiian monarch was absolute, and his person was the most sacred thing known to his subjects. He was court, legislature and executive. Incidentally to walk across the shadow of his house was punishable by death, and all of his subjects lay prostrate in his presence. He owned everything and levied terribly heavy taxes upon his people. If some family had carefully fattened a pig and the fragrance of its roasting reached the royal nostrils, it was not uncommon for the royal chef to come and appropriate the luxury for the royal table. A member of the Hawaiian chiefly class is an emperor literally so soon as born. Stewart tells of seeing a young prince, about three years old strolling through the streets of Honolulu clad in nothing but a pair of green morocco slippers and followed by a retinue of twenty-five servants carrying fans, rugs, umbrellas, spittoons, and other royal paraphernalia. When the monarch died, there followed a reign of anarchy and crime, during which all vices were tolerated. This was apparently a celebration to indicate that all power and law resided in the monarch and ended with his life.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You can Bring Back Color and Lustre with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and not a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

lowed a reign of anarchy and crime, during which all vices were tolerated. This was apparently a celebration to indicate that all power and law resided in the monarch and ended with his life. The royal families lived in rich idleness, and had various amusements which were reserved for them alone. One of these was shooting mice with a bow and arrow. The mouse was about the largest wild animal found in the islands, and the royal sport of hunting it was the only use made by the Hawaiians of the bow and arrow. In war, they used clubs, spears and javelins.

The first important step in the development of the Hawaiian people occurred in 1736 when the monarch Kamehameha I was born. He was only a minor chieftain, but a man of really great gifts with a talent for organization that would have made him a force in any community. He soon abandoned the hectoring warfare between the various islands, and set out with tremendous determination and patience to weld them into an empire. He conquered one island after another until 1795 he was in control of the entire archipelago. He did for Hawaii what Mazzini did for Italy and Bismarck for Germany. Under his rule, Hawaii was a unified and independent monarchy, and if left to themselves the Hawaiian people might have attained a high degree of social and political development.

But in 1778 Captain Cook came to the islands, had a fight with the natives and loosed his sailors among the people with the result that they were debauched and infected with disease. From this time on the history of the islands is that of a long, slow struggle between the ancient traditions and ways of life and the forces of the invading civilization. As the number of white men in the islands increased, there was a growing demand for constitutional rights. Repeatedly these were granted by the monarchs only to be later violated against them. Hawaii became a republic for a brief space and then was made a monarchy again under the famous Queen Liliuokalani, who was the last of the sovereigns. During her reign a steady agitation was started for annexation to the United States. This was refused at first by our congress on the ground that the agitation was carried on by a few Americans whose interests were at stake. Queen Liliuokalani also passionately protested against the change, in which she saw the end of the old Hawaii. Nevertheless, in 1898 a joint resolution for annexation of the territory of Hawaii was passed, and the American flag was raised over the islands to remain there. Queen Liliuokalani came to the United States and wrote an interesting history of her land.

Since that time the islands have become prosperous and Honolulu a great and famous city. But they are over-run with Chinese and Japanese. Competing with the cheap Oriental labor on the one hand, and with occidental enterprise and capital on the other, the native Hawaiian race is steadily decreasing. The old Hawaii of abundance and leisure and music has practically disappeared.

Kidney Disorder

(BY DR. V. M. PIERCE)

"The most simple methods are usually the most effective ones when treating any disorder of the human system." The mere drinking a cup of hot water each morning, plenty of pure water all day, and a little anuric before every meal has been found the most effective means of overcoming kidney trouble. Death would occur if the kidneys did not work day and night in separating poisons and uric acid from the blood.

The danger signals are backache, depression, aches and pains, heaviness, drowsiness, irritability, head-aches, chilliness, rheumatic twinges, swollen joints or gout.

Since it is such a simple matter to step into your favorite drug store and obtain anuric, as every druggist dispenses it, any one who earnestly desires to regain health and new life will waste no time in beginning this treatment.

PRESIDENT ATTACKED

BY OWN KIN FOR THE EIGHT HOUR LAW

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 11.—President Wilson was flayed from the pulpit of the Pilgrim Congregational church by his own kin Sunday. The Rev. S. H. Woodrow, a cousin of the chief executive, attacked the passage of the eight-hour law in a sermon, "A Menace to Free Government."

He said the settlement of the recent railroad situation was "enough to cause alarm to every thoughtful citizen and believer in free government."

WILSON'S ONLY SISTER IS SERIOUSLY ILL

BY ROBERT J. BENDER
LONG BEACH, N. J., Sept. 11.—President Wilson, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson and Secretary Tumulty, left the summer white house at 9 a. m. Monday for New London, Conn., where the president's only sister, Mrs. Annie E. Howe, is seriously ill.

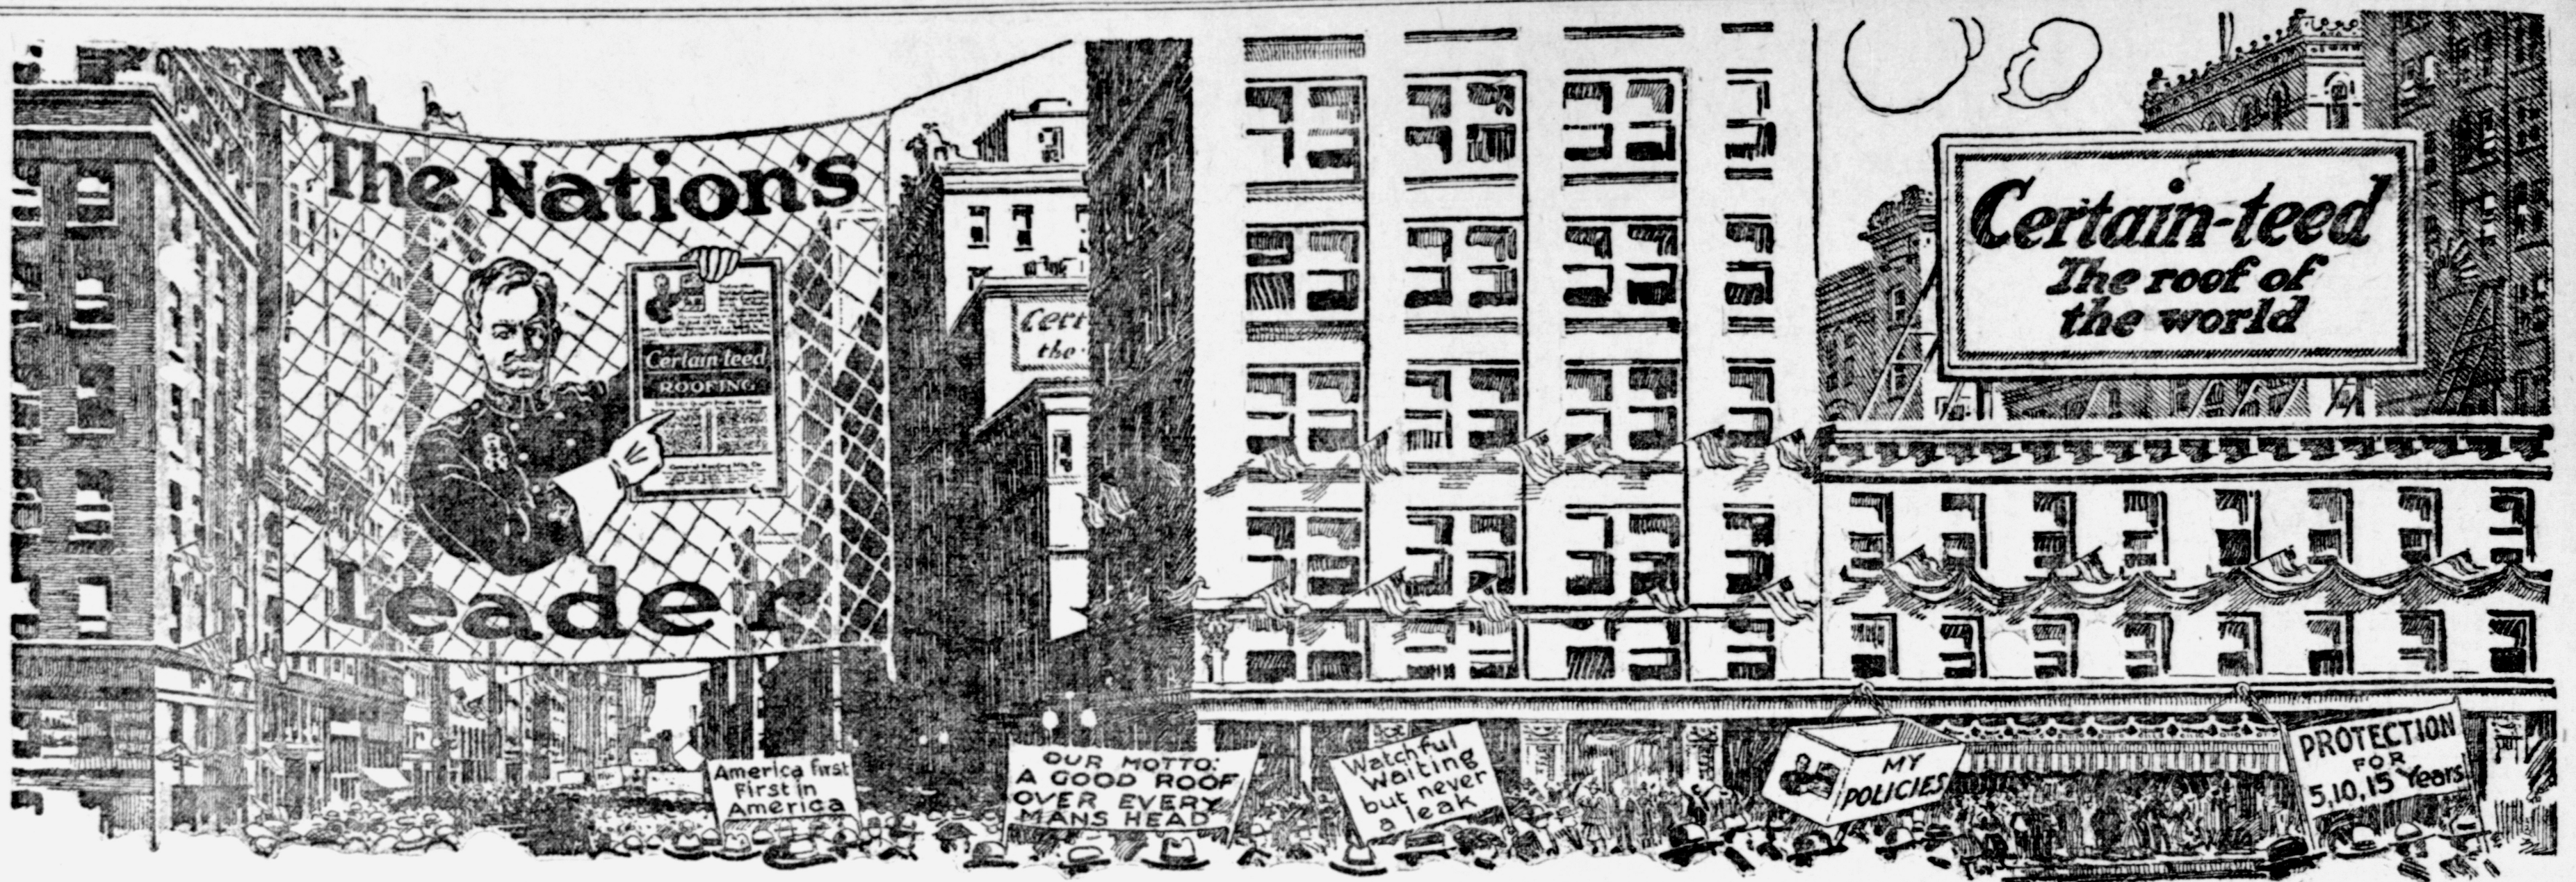

Foreign Markets

New York Stocks
NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—United States Steel common set another new high mark of 104 1/4 during the last few minutes of a million share day on the Stock exchange Monday.

Traders used forecasts of a republican victory in the Maine election today as a bull argument and bid steel stocks and many others upward in the late afternoon. The close was strong.

Republic Steel also set a new record, selling at 64, a 22 point advance since mid-July.

Reading was the second stock in point of activity and sold as high as 111 1/4, later shading a quarter of a point.

Keeping up with the procession is not enough for the General—he must lead. And lead he does—in volume, in quality and in price.

The General's leadership is due to the enormous resources at his command—the five m's of modern manufacturing—men, money, mills, machinery, materials.

Men who have learned the roofing business through years of practical experience are in charge of every department of the business. Men who have made a life study of the blending of asphalts comprise the General's Board of Expert Chemists.

Money—the means to promote efficiency, increase out-put, reduce cost, prevent waste—is at the General's call in abundance.

Mills—the largest roofing mills in the world are the General's. They are advantageously located at points where cost of fuel, access to raw materials and quick distribution of finished products are most favorable.

Machinery—the most modern known to the roofing business, equips each of the General's enormous mills. Not a dollar is left unspent which would speed up production, increase quality or lower costs.

Materials—the food of the mills—is bought by the General in enormous quantities and stored. This means the pick of the market and favorable buying, and no loss from idle machinery, due to shortage of materials.

Thus the success of CERTAIN-TEED Roofing is no secret, but is due to a combination of resources and experience without parallel in the roofing business.

CERTAIN-TEED is made of the best quality roofing felt, thoroughly saturated with a scientific blend of soft asphalts, the formula of the General's board of expert chemists. It is then coated with a blend of harder asphalts, which keeps the inner saturation soft and prevents the drying-out, so destructive to ordinary roofing.

CERTAIN-TEED is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to ply (1, 2 or 3). Experience proves that it lasts longer.

CERTAIN-TEED is made in rolls; also in slate-surfaced shingles. There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roof, from sky-scraper to small residence or out-building.

CERTAIN-TEED is sold by responsible dealers all over the world, at reasonable prices. Investigate it before you decide on any type of roof.

FORMER RUSHFORD SCHOOL MAN NEAR DEATH IN WEST

RUSHFORD, Minn.—(Special).—To many students of the schools here there comes a pang of grief at the news from Lubina Sanatorium, Pasadena, Cal., that Prof. D. Irving Sanford is failing rapidly in health and that his recovery cannot be expected. Mr. Sanford was superintendent of the Rushford schools for some time and both he and his wife gained scores of friends. His brave fight against so many heavy odds as those brought to bear upon him by the dread disease, tuberculosis, seemed at one time to be gaining the desired end, that of, at least, partially restored health, but now even that hope is gone. Mrs. Sanford and their little daughter, Mary Jean, are now with him at the sanatorium.

Mr. Green seriously contemplates planting quite an acreage next year.
